By John Shields

As a native of the Chesapeake Bay region, I've always had a passion for seafood. I grew up fishing and crabbing in the bay, and I learned to cook seafood from my grandmother. Her recipes were simple and straightforward, but they always showcased the fresh, local ingredients.

I've carried on my grandmother's tradition of cooking seafood, and I've developed my own recipes over the years. I'm always looking for new ways to prepare seafood, and I love to experiment with different flavors.

My cookbook, Chesapeake Bay Cooking With John Shields, is a collection of my favorite seafood recipes. The book includes everything from classic dishes, like crab cakes and oysters on the half shell, to more modern takes on Chesapeake Bay cuisine, like seafood paella and grilled rockfish tacos.

Whether you're a seasoned seafood cook or you're just starting out, I hope you'll enjoy my cookbook. I've included recipes for every skill level, and I've provided detailed instructions and tips to help you cook seafood like a pro.
