Kristin Hannah, the beloved author of The Nightingale and The Great Alone, returns with a poignant and unforgettable novel that explores the power of family, the resilience of the human spirit, and the sacrifices made during war.

Set against the backdrop of World War II, Home Front Novel follows the lives of three women from different walks of life whose lives become inextricably linked.

Lena Martin is a young woman from a small town who moves to Seattle to work in a shipyard. She finds herself drawn to Joe Bonham, a handsome and ambitious pilot. But their love is tested by the war, as Joe is deployed overseas. Lena must find the strength to carry on at home, working tirelessly to support the war effort and raise their young son.

Connie Dubois is a wealthy socialite who volunteers at a hospital. She is used to a life of privilege, but the war forces her to confront the realities of life and death. She falls in love with a wounded soldier named Jake, and together they find solace and strength in each other.

Grace Banning is a widowed mother of two who struggles to make ends meet. She takes in a young evacuee named Mimi, and together they form an unbreakable bond. But as the war rages on, Grace must face the possibility of losing everything she holds dear.

As the women's lives intertwine, they learn the true meaning of sacrifice, resilience, and the enduring power of love. Home Front Novel is a beautifully written and emotionally resonant story that will stay with you long after you finish reading it.
